

Wine with Woody

Privacy Notice

I am registered with the Information Commissioner's Office (Registration no. C1142739). Their contact details are shown at the end of this Notice.

I hold limited personal information about my clients and prospects in order to be able to respond to enquiries, and to carry out any contractual obligations entered into pertaining to our wine education and entertainment services. At any time you may request that we remove such data from our records or to amend it. We do not disclose your data to other parties without your express permission.

This website does not collect any information from its visitors, and the only reason it leaves cookies (small text files) on your computer is because it has been created using WordPress. You are welcome to adjust the settings in your browser to disable cookies, and it won't affect your ability to use this site.

The type of personal information we collect

We currently collect and process the following information:

- Personal identifiers, contacts and characteristics (for example, name and contact details).

How we get the personal information and why we have it

Most of the personal information we process is provided to us directly by you for one of the following reasons:

- Your enquiry related to wine education and entertainment services provided by us;

- Your correspondence pertaining to any wine education and entertainment service provided by us;
- Your feedback relating to any wine education and entertainment service provided by us.

We also receive personal information indirectly, from the following sources in the following scenarios:

- Referrals from current clients referencing personal identifiers of potential future clients.

We may use the information that has been provided to us in order to advise you of any planned events or initiatives pertaining to our wine education and entertainment services.

We will not share this information with any third parties, without your express permission.

Under the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR), the lawful bases we rely on for processing this information are:

(a) Your consent. You are able to remove your consent at any time. You can do this by contacting us at the above address.

(b) We have a contractual obligation.

How we store your personal information

Your information is securely stored.

We keep your information at our place of work on emails, electronically in documents and occasionally on paper. We retain your data while we are working on a proposal for or contract with you and for subsequent correspondence pertaining to future wine education and entertainment services. You may ask us to delete your personal information at any time by contacting us at the above address, in which case relevant paper will be shredded, emails deleted and other electronic documents edited or redacted accordingly.

Your data protection rights

Under data protection law, you have rights including:

Your right of access - You have the right to ask us for copies of your personal information.

Your right to rectification - You have the right to ask us to rectify personal information you think is inaccurate. You also have the right to ask us to complete information you think is incomplete.

Your right to erasure - You have the right to ask us to erase your personal information in certain circumstances.

Your right to restriction of processing - You have the right to ask us to restrict the processing of your personal information in certain circumstances.

Your right to object to processing - You have the the right to object to the processing of your personal information in certain circumstances.

Your right to data portability - You have the right to ask that we transfer the personal information you gave us to another organisation, or to you, in certain circumstances.

You are not required to pay any charge for exercising your rights. If you make a request, we have one month to respond to you.

Please contact us at the above address if you wish to make a request.
